

WILLIAMSON: REAL ESTATE

PARADE OF HOMES

SUBMITTED

Best of Show winners Corkie Waller with Savage Gallery and Jimmy Franks with Tennessee Valley Homes, Parade title sponsor Molly Catino with Bank of America and Parade co-chairwomen Kay Russell and Peggy Krebs.

Tennessee Valley Homes wins 'best of show'

FRANKLIN — The 2007 Bank of America Parade of Homes at Stream Valley began in grand fashion as more than 1,000 Preview Party guests made their way to the Park-Trust development to enjoy the night's festivities and tour the six Parade homes.

The evening of food, fun and music led to the announcement of the Parade of Homes Judges' Awards, with Tennessee Valley Homes garnering eight awards, including "Best of Show," "Best Interior Decorating," "Best Specialty Wall Treatment," "Best Draperies," "Best Home Theater," "Best Outdoor Living Area," "Best Master Suite" and "Best Foyer."

Legend Homes came away with the awards for "Best Child's Room" and "Most Livable." Colonnade Custom Homes was awarded "Best Kitchen" and "Best Floor Plan."

The Judges' Awards for "Best Craftsmanship" and "Best Audio/Video (technical)" went to Design Gallery Homes by Drees. RiverBirch Homes won for "Best Front Elevation," and Fedrick, Harris Estate Homes took the award for "Best Landscaping."

Presented annually by the Home Builders Association of Middle Tennessee, the 2007 Bank of America Parade of Homes at Stream Valley is open to the public and runs through Oct. 28, with the homes open daily from 11 a.m. until 8 p.m. Admission is $14 for adults, and children 12 and under are free. A $2-off weekday coupon is available at all Middle Tennessee Bank of America banking centers. On Tuesday, Realtors get in free with a business card. A portion of the proceeds benefits Franklin's Charge.

For more information, visit www.hbant.net or call 377-1055.

The Home Builders Association of Middle Tennessee is a 1,300-member voluntary not-for-profit trade association dedicated to promoting the American dream of home ownership while promoting quality and ethical building throughout the Middle Tennessee area.